THE WHY

We believe that helping others achieve their goals is the highest and best use of your time and ours.

WHO WE ARE

We are experts in solving issues that confound executive teams with too little time or not enough expertise. Industry agnostic, Aristotle business advisors serve as embedded fractional executives focused on specific issues where we have unique expertise that, when solved, dramatically propel the business forward.

OUR PROCESS

No two organizations are the same. Thus, we do not rely on off-the-shelf or canned programs to solve problems. We seek INSIGHTS from the owners and executives leading businesses. We use these insights to inform STRATEGY where it exists and to create strategy where it does not. With an understanding of where we are going we EXECUTE on specific actions that will get us there.
